SCHOLASTIC BOOK FAIR

It is here again! The second annual Fall Scholastic Book Fair will be held on October 21-23, 2004.

The books will be better than ever. Joanne's hard work has proven the library as a wonderful place to host such a fair and Scholastic has promised us a fantastic selection.

Remember that the holidays are fast approaching. This is a good opportunity to start your shopping and help support the children's library collection.

There will again be a raffle of a book bag filled with great books.

Volunteers are being recruited. Call the Children's Room at 926-4729 if you would like to help. Any one who volunteers is entitled to a free book from the titles available.

OUR WEB

If you have a computer, or use one at the library, you will have to go to www.hampton.com. Then click on Children's Room and see our new web page. It can be a great help with homework and when just searching for that right book.

Marija Sanderling, Reference Librarian, has taken the task of making this site something special. With the help of the Children's Room Staff, there are some new and exciting links available.

CHILDREN'S BOOK WEEK

Children's Book Week will be held November 15-21, 2004. During this week the books for children will be celebrated in many ways at the library. The theme this year is "Let's rock...let's roll...let's move...let's go...let's discover...let's fly...let's do it all...with children's books—Let's Book."

Perhaps the most exciting part of this week will be to vote for the Lady Bug Award book sponsored by the Center for the Book in Concord, NH.

The books that have been nominated this year are:

- Tub-boo-boo by Margie Palatini
- One Dark Night by Lisa Wheeler
- Diary of a Worm by Doreen Cronin
- How I became a Pirate by Melinda Long
- Buster by Denise Fleming
- Frog in a Bog by Karma Wilson
- Hey, Pancakes! By Tamson Weston
- Bob by Tracey Campbell Pearson
- Miss Smith's Incredible Storybook by Michael Garland
- My Lucky Day by Keiko Kasza

There will be story times announced for that week so that these books can be shared and the children will have an opportunity to vote and to have that vote counted. The results of the voting will be available in January.

Please call the Children's Room at 926-4729 with any questions.
